WAYS TO MAKE EMPLOYEES PRODUCTIVE

A Fiction

Smile Planter Arun

An Imprint of Kingdom of Smiles

Everyone feared Mr Damodar Patil, more so his employees.

When he would be in his office, no one would dare to do anything but work. They say, if he finds you walking in the office (even to a washroom), you are sure to invite his wrath.

One day, Mr Patil walked inside his office with one of the company's big clients. As he expected, his employees were up on their toes. They were busy working, running around, getting things done. It was a sight that brought a smile to his face.

Impressed, he looked at the client. There was a smile on his face which made Mr Patil even more happy. But suddenly the client stopped smiling. Mr Patil wondered why and followed his gaze.

What he saw shocked him. One of his employees, perhaps a new joinee, was sitting with his feet up on his desk and doing nothing. Fuming with rage, Mr Patil approached him.

He tapped on the employee's shoulder. The employee turned. Mr Patil yelled on his face in all his rage, “Shun!

Shun!
Shun!
Shun!
Shun!
Shun!
Shun!
Shun!
Shun!
Shun!”

The employee broke out in a cold sweat. There was no doubt he was all worried, all tensed. He got back to working rigorously like others.

Proud of himself, Mr Patil looked at the client, smiled and said, “See, that’s how I give them ten-shun.”
